

Why there is no real legal seperation.

Written by Alex

Monday, 23 May 2011 00:00 - Last Updated Thursday, 19 May 2011 14:40

---

In MA ,there is no legal seperation. There are some confusion over the term. There are temporary orders while a divorce is pending that many consider a legal seperation. There is also sperate suppport action but that is only best for people who want to rmain married. Other an informal seperation a legal seperation but it is not considered so under the law.