

Is your Juvenile charges on your record

Written by Alex

Tuesday, 07 June 2011 00:00 - Last Updated Monday, 20 June 2011 19:17

There are many misconceptions about criminal records in MA. Juvenile cases are not easy to view, however, the charges do show up on your record. Even a CWOFF , not guilty or dismissal will show up. Getting a juvenile record expunged is generally not possible under MA law. The records may be sealed upon an allowed motion. The impact on a juvenile records is much less than with an adult charge but there are a lot of potential drawbacks.

[video:<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=KAq3lb-ZFck&feature=dir>]